

DAILY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Friday, January 31, 2025

Good morning. We will be back in 30 seconds with your morning announcements.

Calling all adventurers! The D&D Club meets this week in Mr. Holbrook's room at 2:45. Be there or be square. Pardon me...or be a gelatinous cube.

Pet Photo Contest

Today is officially the end of photo submissions for the Hillcrest Pet Showcase. Thank you to everyone who sent in photos. Next week, we'll begin voting! Voting will be by team. Stay tuned for more details.

Lunar New Year

The Lunar New Year celebrations conclude with the Lantern Festival, which falls on the 15th day of the new year. People light colorful lanterns and gather for parades and festivals. Lanterns symbolize hope and a bright future. In some places, there are dragon dances and traditional performances. It's a beautiful way to close out the festivities and send wishes for a prosperous year ahead. We hope you've enjoyed learning about Lunar New Year this week!